

Successor to Mr. C. W. MOORE.
MICHAEL SMITH,
M.A., LL.B.
BARRISTER & SOLICITOR, and
NOTARY PUBLIC.
CARTELAIRS, also
At CROSSFIELD THURSDAYS.

THE CHRONICLE

VOL X. NO. 21.

CROSSFIELD, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, MAY 25th, 1917.

PRICE $1 A YEAR.

WM. LAUT

THE Lighter Day Range

See these features that have made this Stove appeal to Four Customers in the last month, and then ask any of them if they are satisfied.

HIGH OVEN—Light and Roomy
Two inside pot holes to shut in the odour of smelly dishes
Heated warming closet
Clear glass oven door
Thermometer standing height
Toasting and Broiling lever
Large Storage for Pots and Pans
Clear broom space underneath
New Heating Principle:—
Quicker Oven and Less Fuel
Perfect Cooking with poor chimney.

Other Features—Modern and Important:
Sectional Top—no warping or cracking
White Enamel lining round cooking top
Easy working Duplex grates
Large ashpit and pan.
Bright polished steel body
Heavy nickel'd parts
Convenient, easy working damper.

It is real economy to purchase a Range as carefully made and as convenient to use as the new

LIGHTER DAY.

William Laut, GROCERIES, HARDWARE, IMPLEMENTs, HARNESS.

CHAS. HULTGREN

Notary Public and Commissioner for taking Affidavits

Conveyancing of all kinds of Legal Papers such as

TRANSFERS, MORTGAGES, AGREEMENTS OF SALE, LEASES.

Drawing up of WILLS. Etc. Etc.

INSURANCE and LOANS my Specialty.

Agent for John Deere and Cockshutt Plow Co.

CHAS. HULTGREN, Crossfield

CROSSFIELD GARAGE

HENDRICKSON & BLEGEN, Props. Phone 4.

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.

All Kinds of Ford Repairs in Stock. Tires & Accessories.

Rebuilders of Stationary, Traction, Gasoline or Steam

Engines and Separators.

Steam Boiler Repairing of any Description. Pipe Fitting.

Agents: Gould Balance Valves. Garden City Self-Feeders.

ASSOCIATION AUCTION SALE

92 PUREBRED BULLS

55 SHORTHORNS

15 ABERDEEN ANGUS

22 HEREFORDS

LACOMBE, May 30th, 1917

Bulls Judged at 10 a.m., sale commences at 1.30 p.m.

Reduced passenger rates good May 29th and 30th, and to return May 31st, from C.P.R. Stations between Calgary and Edmonton, Haydley on the Wetaskiwin Branch, and Major on the Lacombe branch.

Freight paid on Bulls for nominal fee to purchaser's nearest station.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

The Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association.

WM. SHARP, Lacombe,

President.

E. L. RICHARDSON,

Calgary, Secretary.

Provincial Library
Edmonton

J. A. VALIQUETTE, LL.B.,
BARRISTER-SOLICITOR-NOTARY
Room 3 Alberta Hotel, Crossfield
every Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
Calgary Office: 810a First Street West.
Phone #1457.

Money to Loan.

Local and General

Mr. W. McRory has been appointed ed a Notary Public.

The Stork visited the home of Capt. and Mrs. Wigle and presented them with a fine bouncing boy on Thursday evening week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McRory spent the week end in Calgary.

Mrs. Battis is at present in Calgary attending to a sick friend.

Mrs. Chester McRory is spending an holiday with Mr. and Mrs. W. McRory.

Church of the Ascension.—
Whit-Sunday, May 27th.

Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Morning Prayer, & Sermon 11 a.m.

Addition to the Prize List for 1917 for the Crossfield and District Agricultural Fair in Classes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, Section 6 in each case. Dry
Mare or Gelding, 1st prize $10.00,
2nd prize $5.00.

The local garage has just changed hands, C. Smart having again taken it over. Hendrickson and Blegen are going in for leather and engine repairs. All persons owing accounts are requested to pay up at once.

The Liberal Convention in the interests of Hon. C. W. Fisher that was advertised to take place in the Oldfellow Hall, on Saturday afternoons last, was for some reason switched over to Calgary. The following delegates attended from Crossfield:—Mr. and Mrs. H. M.
Horricks; Mrs. M. Thomas, Capt.
N. L. Wigle, Messrs. H. E. Morrow, and T. M. Caldwell. Also a number from Cochrane and others.

In connection with the efforts put forth by the local committee of the Belgian Relief Fund, the sum of $110.35 has been forwarded to headquarters. The committee wish to thank all those who assisted in any way to make the effort a success.
They also thank them may be others who would like to add their contribution to this amount. Since our last announcement the sum of $25.10 has been handed in. Anyone desiring to contribute to the fund can send in their donation to the Secy.
Merrick Thomas. No contribution too small or none too large to help
this deserving cause.

At the convention held at Crossfield on Monday afternoon to nominate a candidate in the Conservative interests a good number of delegates put in an appearance. In despite of bad roads a number drove in from Botrel also several attended from Cochrane. Mr. H. E. G. H. Scholefield, president of the Cochrane
Conservative association was unanimously selected. Mr. Scholefield is well known in this portion of the constituency, he is on a tour in the western portion at the present.

Farmers Insure your Buildings in the Wawanesa Mutual
Fire Insurance Co. A Company of the Farmers and for the Farmers only. Costs only about 35 cents a year for $100 Insurance.

Chas. Hultgren, Agent.

Crockery:--

We have a fine assortment of
Dishes that will please you.
Either in Plain or Fancy China

Hardware:--

If you require anything in this line we have it.

OUR TINSHOP
is prepared to handle all kinds of Sheet Metal Work.

W. McRory & Sons

HARDWARE SPECIALISTS AND HEATING EXPERTS.

CROSSFIELD DISTRICT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION U.F.A. LIMITED.

For Sale—Timothy Seed, 7c. per lb. Also 15 Breed Sows, due to farrow in April and May. Also one Boar. Irvin Pike, Phone R. 709.

For Sale—Eggs for Hatching, Buff Orpington, $1.50 per 15. $7.00 per 100. Mrs. John Grasby.

Strayed from See. 25, 28, w. 4, one Cow, branded bq left shoulder.

Required for information, Mr. Fitzgerald, Team of Geldings, weight 700 lbs. John Grasby.

For Sale—Pony Mare, infish, 3 years old; Team of Geldings, weight 3,200 lbs. 6 mth's years old; Two good Milk Cows; One Gelder, and five hen Turkeys, one Man and two Sheep, 1½ lamb. A. E. Smith.

Wanted at once.—Man, must be good at figures and a hunter.

Crossfield District Co-operative Ass'n, U.F.A., Ltd.

For Sale—Eggs for Hatching, Barred Plymouth Rocks, $1.50 per 15; $7.00 per 100. Joe Cranmer.

Wanted.—A Woman Caretaker, for the U.F.A. Ladies' Rest Room at

Crossfield to attend to the opening and closing of door, morning and evening, and sweep room every day. State wages. Apply to Mrs.
Miller, Secy., Treas., Rodney U.F.W.A., R.R. No. 1, Crossfield.

For Sale—seed Potatoes, Wee McGregor's, $1.50 per bushel.

For Sale—A number of Good Breed Sows, also a bunch of 2 year old Herdson Heifers.—Apply Geo. Huser.

For Sale.—One Grade Shorthorn Bull, age 2 years. V. B. Arnold.

Lost.—Two year old black Filly, been missing about three weeks from

Sec. 4, Tp. 29, R. 27, W. 4. Branded bq left thigh. T. W. Knight.

If you require any of the following see us, 38in., 32in. and 28in. Hog

Wire, 4 pt. Barb Wire, Sweet Pads, Harness, Harness Oil, Blacking

Vaccine, Brooms, Linseed Oil, Machine Oil, Paint, U.F.A. Office.

CASH STORE.

Leave your Orders for
Cabbage and Cauliflower
AND OTHER PLANTS. Calgary Prices.

H. R. ARNOLD,

Next to the Post Office.

CARSON BROS. FEED & SALES BARN (The Old Cowling Barn)

Having put in a complete line of Livestock we are now in a position to cater for our customers, day or night.

AUTO IN CONNECTION.

Livery, Feed, Breeding and Sales Barn.

YOURS FOR BETTER BUSINESS

CARSON BROS.

PUTS A STOP TO ALL DISTEMPER

CURES THE SICK —

All good druggists and turf good houses. Write for our free booklet on Distemper.

JOHN MEDICAL CO.

Chemists and Bacteriologists.

MICA
AXLE
GREASE

makes miles shorter,
pulling easier, friction less.

It's the Mica.

Mica puts the e-a-s-e in grease.

THE
IMPERIAL OIL COMPANY
Limited
BRANCHES THROUGHOUT
CANADA

Chemically Self-Extinguishing!

What do these words mean to you?
They mean greater safety in the home!

Perhaps you have noticed these words on our new "SILENT PARLOR" match boxes. These units of all matches contained in these boxes have been soaked in a solution which renders them dead wood, once they have been lighted and blown out, thereby reducing the danger of FIRE from glowing matches to the greatest minimum.

Safety First and Always—
USE EDDY'S SILENT "5's"

A Nice German Prisoner

They seem to be docile enough in captivity

When the German prisoners first come in they appear frightened and disconcerted, but after a few days they seem to be happy and cheerful writes an officer. Their discipline is such that they are under a surveillance almost nominal and work well under the direction of their non-commissioned officers. At the sight of a French or British officer they stiffen up and salute in proper fashion showing the same deference as toward their own officers, and indeed the complete contempt of the Teutonic nation. There is a docility about these prisoners that is almost pathetic, and it seems to please the easy-going Tommy Atkins to see them in this condition, feeling towards him, for he is constantly stopping when not on duty to give them tobacco or other good things. One afternoon I saw a German who had undergone a severe struggle in the trench with a huge German, whose face was considerably damaged by fist and bayonet, brought his prisoner in and calmly stated that he was allowed to keep him with him because he seemed to be a nice fellow.

Her Own Worry
"How's your wife?"
"Fine, her only trouble is me"—Exchange

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, Etc.

Betty—I shall not wed until I find a hero.
Marie—Well, my dear, just show me the man and I will do what you say.
John—Dad, I am sorry to tell you, I have a schedule of your yearly expenses, and if he doesn't back out he's one.

The German master can fire faster than any other rifle used in war. The magazine holds five cartridges, packed in charges.

21 THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS OF HEALTHY BOYS & GIRLS EAT Grape-Nuts
AND CREAM EVERY MORNING BECAUSE WISE MOTHERS KNOW "There's a Reason"

Two Thousand Canadians Prisoners

They Belonged to the Forces Operating in France

According to statistics presented in the British house of commons, 81 officers and 218 men of the Canadian forces operating in France have been taken prisoner by the Germans.

In other branches of the empire forces serving in France the Germans according to these statistics stand second to the British.

British 1020 officers and 28,876 of other ranks; Australasians 21 officers, 827 men; New Zealanders 19 men; South Africans 11.

The total number of prisoners secured by the Germans from British empire forces in France is 1131 officers and 2191 men.

No Canadian losses are mentioned in the statistics regarding other war theatres. The number of Australasians captured in the Dardanelles, Egypt, given as 22 officers and 130 other ranks. In all theatres 33 officers and 976 of other ranks from the Australasian forces were captured.

The Oil of Power—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that it can cure all diseases, but its uses are so valuable that it may be looked for as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learnt by experience.

Royalties are very much like other folks. They can even be moderately bright at times. The Czar said when proposing, "The Emperor, my father, has commanded me to offer you my hand."

"And my grandmother, the Queen," has commanded me to accept your hand, your heart I will take myself."

YES! MAGICALLY! CORMS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You say to the drug store man,

"Give me a small bottle of freezeon."

This will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft or callous from one's feet.

A few drops of this new oil compound applied directly to a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn or callous disappears, and dries up and can be easily removed.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that freezeon dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn or callous without irritating the surrounding skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

Your druggist hasn't any freezeon zone tell him to order a small bottle from his wholesale drug house for you.

Regarded as Social Error

It is said to be regarded as a social error to mention the island of St. Helena while taking tea with the Hohenzollerns.—Charleston News and Courier.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.

An "Impossible" Empire

The plain matter of fact is that the German empire has made itself impossible in Europe. Its root ideas, its fundamental conceptions, its histories, its modes of thought and manners, its customs, its behavior,

are so widely different from what we associate with the best elements of our civilization that it is hard to adjust to amidst ways and accept a defeat which means humiliation.

From the London Telegraph.

Corns are caused by the pressure of tight boots, but no one need be troubled with them long when so simple a remedy as Holloway's Cor-ne Cure is available.

The Human Side of Sir John Jellicoe

There are other sides to Sir John Jellicoe, First Lord of the Admiralty, besides being a fighting sailor.

"I have had many touching letters from wives and little children," he said the other day. "The little ones ask, 'When will you let Daddy come home?'

"I have answered a great many of them myself, and have had to say in each case, 'It is impossible.' This is due to the added cost of husbandry

and so long as the country needs

them we must ask the wives and children to let them off."

Lady Maxwell, wife of Lieut.-General Sir John Maxwell, has made to the British government what is equivalent to one-third of her capital of interest, for the duration of the war. The gift amounts to $175,000.

The government has accepted the gift.

GROW ONIONS From High Grade Seeds

Selected Yellow Globe Danvers Onion (black seed) oz. 25c,

1-4 lbs. 65c. lb. $2.10, 5 lbs. $9.25

Select Large Red Wethersfield Onion (black seed) oz. 25c,

1-4 lbs. 65c. lb. $2.10, 5 lbs. $9.25

Early Yellow Danvers Onion (black seed) oz. 20c, 1-4 lbs. 60c,

lb. $1.90, 5 lbs. $8.25

Yellow Dutch Onion Sets (choice) lb. 35c, 5 lbs. $1.70

Shallot Multiplier Onion (for green onions) Pkg. 5c, 5 lbs. $1.40

Chantenay Red Table Carrot, Pkg. 5c, oz. 25c, 4 ozs. 65c. lb. $2.00

XXX Cardinal Globe Beet Pkt. 10c, oz. 20c, 4 ozs. 50c. lb. $1.50

Pink Hard Head Cabbage (12 lbs.) Pkg. 5c, oz. 30c, 4 ozs. 90c

Perfection Cucumber (for table or pickles) Pkg. 15c, oz. 25c, 4 ozs. 90c

XXX Pickle Beet (continuous crop) Pkg. 15c, oz. 25c, 4 ozs. 90c

Spanish Marrowwort (biggest that grows) Pkg. 15c, oz. 25c, 4 ozs. 90c

English High Grade Mushroom Spawn Brick 50c, 5 bricks. $1.65

XXX Solid Head Potatoes Pkg. 10c, oz. 25c, 4 ozs. 75c

Kangaroo Swede Turnip (high quality) 4 oz. 20c, 1-2 lbs. 35c, lb. $1.50

King Irish Swede Turnip (tuber or cattle) 4 oz. 20c, 1-2 lbs. 37c, lb. 70c, 5 lbs. $3.40

Jumbo Sugar Beet (best for stock) 4 ozs. 15c, 1-2 lbs. 25c, lb. $2.50

Culture leaflets for any of the above Free with Orders.

Sweet Scented Nicotina (Tobacco Plant) mixed colors Pkg. 5c

Early Cosmos, Crimson, Pink, White or Mixed Shades Pkg. 10c

XXX Spencer Giant Sweet Peas Pkg. 15c, oz. 35c, 4 ozs. $1.00

Summer Cypress, lovely summer hedge Pkg. 5c, 1-4 lbs. 25c

XXX Climbing Nasturtium, all colors Pkg. 10c, oz. 20c

Branching Giant Asters, Pink, White, Crimson or Mixed Pkg. 10c

Giant XXX Comet Asters, mixed all colors Pkg. 10c

XXX Defence Sweet Mignonette Pkg. 10c, 1-2 oz. 25c

"Pakro" Seedtape. "You plant it by the Yard."

2 pts. for 25c. Ask for descriptive list.

Rennie's Seed Annual Free to All. Delivery—Free in Canada.

Order through your LOCAL DEALER or direct from

RENNIE'S SEEDS WM. RENNIE CO., LIMITED

394 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg

ALSO AT TORONTO, MONTREAL, VANCOUVER

Straining Every Nerve

A Solar Water Heater

Using Sunshine for Heating Water in California

The sun itself heats the hot water used by many residents of Monroe and other places in southern California. According to the Scientific American, the sunshine water heater consists of a coil of pipe arranged in a box about four inches deep with a copper bottom and a glass top.

The apparatus is usually placed on the roof of a similar exposed location. The rays of the sun heat the water in the pipe and this sets up a circulation that carries the water to a storage tank, from which it is drawn for household usage.

The storage tank is usually insulated so that the loss of temperature during the night is usually not more than four or five degrees. Southern California is generally favored with sunshine, but there seems to be no reason why this economical method of heating water should not be used in other parts of the country during hot sunny weather.

Know Love

Hie—No quarterback a Senior?

Hie—No, Genevaie?

Hie—Oh, I thought he must be known such a lot of numbers!

Exchange.

AFTER ANY SICKNESS
your nervous system is shattered; your strength is wasted;
your digestion weakened; your blood impoverished.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is the rich tonic-food to nourish your nerve-centers, repair the wasted tissue, improve your blood-power, sharpen your appetite and gradually re-establish your strength.

Get SCOTT'S for yourself, or remind some ailing friend that SCOTT'S has proven these words for thousands of others.

Look for this Trade-Mark.

Scott & Sons, Toronto, Ont.

16-9

THAT'S THE POLISH

2 in 1

SHOE POLISHES

10¢ -BLACK-WHITE-TAN-10¢

J. F. Dalley Co. of Canada, Ltd.

Hamilton, Ont.

W. N. U. 3154

Will YOU Give 3-¹/₂ Cents a Day to Keep A Child From Starving?

If you will, read this appeal carefully then decide what share you will take in helping avert the greatest tragedy of all time.

1,250,000 CHILDREN ARE FACING SLOW STARVATION IN BELGIUM TODAY.

The Belgian Relief Commission has not the means to supply these growing children with the food that is necessary. THE SITUATION IS SERIOUS. This great relief fund has largely been administered through Americans; the break between the States and Germany has brought about a crisis; there is more need of funds now than at any previous time.

THE GREAT RELIEF WORK MUST AND WILL GO ON. WE MUST DO OUR SHARE.

At the present time the growing child in Belgium receives only a "hunk of bread and a bowl of soup" each day. It is not enough; they must have more—or starve.

For 3 1-3 cents a day the Relief Commission can supply one child with an extra "meal" of a biscuit made with fat or lard and a cup of cocoa, not much, but it is the difference between life and death, between health and disease, for the children of heroic Belgium.

ALBERTA HAS BEEN BLESSED WITH TWO RECORD-BREAKING CROPS.

We are prosperous—the future looks bright—we are in a position to help. How many starving children can you look after? How many will we look after?

HOW MANY WILL YOU FEED?

$12.00 a year, the price the Alberta farmer received for eight bushels of his wheat, will give this extra "meal" to one child for a whole year. 10c a day or $36.00 a year will keep three children from starvation. $60.00 a year will feed five; $120.00 a year will feed 10.

WERE YOU EVER HUNGRY?

Can you picture starvation, the pinched faces, the piteous cries?

IF THE CHILDREN WERE STARVING IN ALBERTA you would help—

YOU WILL HELP IN THIS CASE

You can't pass by the children's cry for food from starving Belgium!

AND YOU MUST ACT NOW

The thought that you are feeding some of these unfortunate each day will bring you happiness. Think of the eager little hands reaching for the meal you supply.

Your own meals will taste sweeter when you do your share. The paper in which you are reading this is doing its share by publishing this appeal without charge—WHAT WILL YOU DO?

You may send contributions by the week, month, or in one lump sum. You are ASSURED that your money is used for the purpose it is sent.

THERE ARE HUNGRY CHILDREN AWAITING YOUR DECISION. HOW MANY WILL YOU FEED?

Send cheques payable to—

Belgian Relief Fund

FOR SOUTHERN ALBERTA,
and address them to J. H. Woods, Hon. Secretary-Treasurer, Southern Alberta Committee, Herald Building, Calgary.

Lodge Cards

CROSSFIELD LODGE I. O. O. F.

Meets Every Wednesday Night in the Oddfellows Hall at 8 p.m.
Visiting Brethren Welcome.

Dr. WHILLANS, N. G.
S. WILLIS, Sec.-Treas.

Crossfield School District No. 752

The REGULAR MEETINGS of the above School Board will be held at the School House at 10 a.m. on the first Saturday in the following months: January, March, May, September and October. All meetings of business pertaining to this district will be attended to at this meeting.

The office of the Sec.-Treas. is in the Crossfield Drug Store.

A. R. Thomas, Chairman.
Merrick Thomas, Sec.-Treas.

Council Meetings

The council of the Village of Crossfield will meet in the Council Chamber over First National Bank on the first day of each month, commencing with the hour of 4 o'clock p.m.

By Order of the Village Council.
St. & St.

Farm Lands.

OREGON AND CALIFORNIA RAIL-ROAD CO. GRANT LANDS. Title to same revested in United States by Act of Congress, July 26, 1866. Two million three hundred thousand acres to be opened for Homesteads and Sale.

Timber and Agricultural Lands containing some of best land left in United States. Now is the opportune time. Large sectional Map showing lands and description of same, also Mineral, elevations, etc. Postpaid One Dollar.

Grant Lands Locating Co., Box 910, Portland, Oregon.

Farmers Repair

Shop

Special Attention Given to

BLACKSMITHING.

Blacksmith's Coal for Sale.

PRICES RIGHT

ALEX JESSIMAN, Prop.

For Sale or Exchange.

Well-bred Clydesdale, four years old, sound, harness and range broken. Will make an 1,800 horse when natural $300.00 cash; or would trade with cash for a sound young team of Clydes. JOHN FARR, Airdrie, Alberta.

Crossfield Chronicle

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1.00 per year in advance; or $1.50 if not paid in advance.

PUBLISHED at the Chronicle office, at Crossfield, Alberta, each Friday.

Legal advertisements, 12 cents per line for first insertion; and 8 cents each subsequent insertion.

ROBERT WHITFIELD,
PRINTER AND PUBLISHER.

CROSSFIELD, Alberta, May 25, 1917.

Elizabeth) arriving at my destination on Sunday morning.

I consider myself about the luckiest son a man that ever crossed the pond; for I never had a bullet hit me, nor a wound like mine. However, I am in Blighty now, so I should worry, and going to make the best of the time whilst I am here. I am expecting Bert Lockwood in to see me this afternoon, as he is not far from the hospital, to-day is public visiting day.

I hope to be alright again pretty soon, and I must say again I was certainly very lucky, we had been dodging shells for about 10 hours before I got what I did. Canada needs to be proud of her soldier boys for there are none better, as the display they put up on Easter Monday and following days goes to show. Talk about us, a person may see moving pictures of us, but they don't know what has to do with the real thing to realize what it is like. To see wave after wave of men going over the crest of a hill, nothing daunting, with shells screaming overhead, and machine gun bullets spitting almost everywhere, is the sight of a lifetime, and it seems impossible that anything could ever come out alive, yet our casualties were very light indeed, especially when one considers what was achieved. We established a Regimental Aid Post in what had been the German second line at 12 o'clock noon Monday, April 7th, and we really needed to take a thing of supplies as the dug-outs that Fritz had used for the same purpose before we were loaded with all kinds of surgical supplies, we just taking along a bunch of stretchers and keeping the prisoners carrying.

Remember me to all inquiring friends.

I remain,

Your ever loving son,

HARRY.

(Copy) Certified copy of Pedigree Recorded in the Clydesdale Stud Book of Canada.

CYMR

[13515]

Light Bay, female, legs white, foaled June 1, 1916, bred by P. M. Bredt and Sons Regina, Sask., foaled the property of P. G. Swan, Crossfield, Alberta.

SIRE: Trojan (imp) [8316] (1922)

DAM: Bello Sirdar (8677)

This is to certify that the above pedigree is on record in volume 21.

Approved W. A. Clemons, for Minister of Agriculture.

B. E. Martinette, pro Registrar.

Ottawa, Canada, April 26th, 1912.

Government of the Province of Alberta
Department of Agriculture
No. 1988

CERTIFICATE OF PURE BREED STALLION

The Pedigree of the Stallion CYMR

Has been examined by the department and I hereby certify that the said stallion is of pure breeding and is registered in a stud book recognized by the department.

Dated at Edmonton, Alberta, this 14th day of May, 1914.

G. P. Bertenshaw,
Acting Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

This Stallion will be available for service after the 15th of May.

Terms: $12.00 to insure, $2.00 at time of service and $10.00 when mare is shown to be in foal.

J. McFADYEN, Owner.

Drumsheugh

[9472]

Bay Clydesdale

No. 967. Department of Agriculture
Government of the Province of Alberta.

Copy of Certificate of Pure Breed Stallion

[The Horse Breeders' Ordinance N.-W. Territories, chapter 23, 1903.]

The pedigree of the Stallion Drumsheugh described as follows:—

Breed: CLYDESDALE. Color: BAY.

Marks: White blaze near front foot and outside hind foot.

Foaled in the year 1907.

Has been examined by this department, and I hereby certify that the said stallion is of pure breeding and is registered in a stud book recognized by the department.

Dated at Edmonton this Seventh day of May, 1910. GEO. HARCOUET, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

Will stand at his own stables for Season 1917.

Terms: $12.00 to insure male in foal, $2 down if mare is worked. Any person desiring a mare before foaling time shall pay fee at once or prove that mare is not in foal. Mare taken at owner's risk.

Sam. G. Fleming,

Owner.

Grain and Gunpowder

Nemesis Is Today Dogging the Heels of the Blood-stained Hob-enzollern

News despatched tell of the heroic efforts being made by the people and government of Great Britain to account for any possible shortage of food-stuffs that may result from a prolongation of the war and increased difficulties in getting some of the nitrates she has wasted in big explosives.

In England planting time is near at hand and preparations are well completed which will result in every available square yard of the light little island bearing a crop of some kind to be harvested.

The intensive cultivation will outlive the war and for some years Britain's imports of foodstuffs will not increase.

In France there is little waste land but the conclusion of the war will bring with it much agricultural land to reclaim and reorganize. Thousands of acres, now practically devastated, will require intense labor, in filling craters, etc., before their shell-cracked surfaces are once more fit for healthful cultivation. Wheat or grain or vine, France, in normal times a small importer of foodstuffs, is likely after the war to come near to self-sufficiency in cereals. All of Belgium has suffered to the same extent as that of France.

The Central Empires have suffered less, especially in regard to their agriculture, which has been hard hit. It will take at least a decade to bring their fields up to the same degree of productivity as France.

The use of artificial fertilizers for a period of three to four years in Germany and Austria will prove, on inspection, that the less dead land makes for those countries. What would be hard to imagine anything more gloomy than the agricultural outlook for Germany. But the worst is yet to come. Five million soldiers in the countries in the face. Their visible supplies are tabulated to the last bushel. There is no invisible supply to come from the German reserves; have gone, and she now has to face scutter harvests.

Statisticians of the greatest trade of the world are agreed, after the reaping of the crops, busily engaged in trying to estimate the farm resources, or, as they are technically known, the agricultural potentialities of the Central Empires. Today, Germany is very much a fact in Britain. It has no existence in Canada. It or Austria, however, asserts that Britain has on hand or purchased sufficient for her needs until next harvest and she is taking the right steps to assure her people's food supply, however prolonged the struggle.

Famine is overrunning Germany and Austria, vast areas where they withstand the shock of blows shortly to be showered upon them, soon after the war they will be as bad off as Spain. Spain peace be signed at once it would take months to fill the national larder.

The conditions above outlined show that the Central European farmers in a very strong position. Peace will bring an immense demand for grain and meat from central Europe, products for which central Europe will be best qualified. The cost of living will be enhanced by the tariff walls that German cheap goods will have to climb in order to reach possible purchases. To reach those products to the utmost in their power is logically the path of wisdom for the western farmer. He will be doing great service for the Empire by his own hands himself. There is no danger of over-production bearing to any great extent on prices. In fact, over-production is impossible.

"World power or ruin," greatly tickled the German fancies three years ago, but, of course, the truth was taken to be the matter of the day of old. The war, however, has now faded fast while the grim features of ruin are every hour becoming more hideously marked in all their ghastly significance. The burning cities and ruined fields and farms was, no doubt, pleasurable excitement for the Hun and Gothic peoples of the day of old. Their warlike instincts, however, has pitted an entire nation to maturity, becomes the father, when it is sold and the money is spent on his wife and children to the last cent. His wife, however, is determined to "go on his own" as soon as he is of age. Giving the boy or the girl an acre to manage, he will be compelled to go to work and help out on occasion strengthening a link for farm life through a realizing sense of its profits. It is good education.—Detroit Free Press.

Nemesis is today dogging the heels of the blood-stained Hobenzollern. His wife, who has been left a famished widow and his wretched sheep and lambs bleed over sacred pastures, but evil done carries with it certain punishment. She will surely appreciate the cost to him of the nitrates she has wasted in big explosives.

Black I want to put my money into something safe.

White: Try a fireproof vault.

Wheat Won't Pay

Prof. Reynolds Says Russia Produces Cheaper Wheat in Canada

It may be that in five or ten years' time Canadian wheat growers will be unable to make wheat growing pay owing to competition with Russia and India, according to Prof. J. C. Reynolds, of Manitoba Agricultural college.

Prof. Reynolds, in dealing with conditions after the war, Canada, situated as we are in present times, will be prosperous, but they were abnormal. We were now living on borrowed money, but this money would have to be paid back, and at the close of the war a sudden change would take place.

Among the problems that will confront Canada is the cost of wheat caused by soldiers coming back and seeking new and old occupations. The nation will owe a living to those men who have given their lives. The productive industry will have to be restored to pay back Canada's debts.

The price of wheat will go down with a rush after the war and Russia's wheat now bottled up will flood the market. Canada's methods of growing are not so good as those of Russia. She can place her wheat on the Liverpool market at from 25 to 40 cents lower than Canada can obtain, unless she can get a rate of labor. In ten years from now Canadian growers will hardly be able to make wheat pay owing to competition with Russia and India.

The process involves a financial collapse after the war and claims Canada cannot maintain her present prosperity. Unemployment will be a serious problem, and the cost of one will that require careful handling.

Speaking of the ultimate effects of the war, Prof. Reynolds said that if we went to war we could expect the construction of Belgium would occupy the people of that country to such an extent that they would be unable to grow money to buy foodstuffs.

Dealing with the British side, Prof. Reynolds said that Canada would be the first to recover because she has little reconstruction. Some men have no people are resourceful and hardy, and will work.

There will be no employment and low wages in the cities and a time of depression generally. The wealthy few are to be blamed for the many unemployed.

How Money Makes Money

How the Wealthy Few are Able to Absorb the Wealth

How long will it take our millions—values and multimillionaires to double the value of their holdings and absorb the greater part of the wealth?—a staggering thought. Best in mind to consider is the price of savings. Some men must die if a people would live. "It is expedient," says Holy Writ. That expense of death is involved in every large sum of money.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

Building Cargo Carriers in Britain

The Need for New Cargo Ships Is Very Great

There is reported from day to day the names of many ships lost from the operations of the submarine, but not a word reaches us about the scuttling to this destruction; the constant addition to Britain's mercantile fleet is from present times in every centre of shipbuilding activity. That work along this line is being speeded up by the following from a London newspaper:

"It is understood that a number of shipyards where high-class liners have been laid down instructions have been given for work to be suspended until the completion of the redistribution of tonnage caused by soldiers coming back and seeking new and old occupations. The nation will owe a living to those men who have given their lives. The productive industry will have to be restored to pay back Canada's debts."

The price of wheat will go down with a rush after the war and Russia's wheat now bottled up will flood the market. Canada's methods of growing are not so good as those of Russia. She can place her wheat on the Liverpool market at from 25 to 40 cents lower than Canada can obtain, unless she can get a rate of labor. In ten years from now Canadian growers will hardly be able to make wheat pay owing to competition with Russia and India.

The process involves a financial collapse after the war and claims Canada cannot maintain her present prosperity. Unemployment will be a serious problem, and the cost of one will that require careful handling.

Speaking of the ultimate effects of the war, Prof. Reynolds said that if we went to war we could expect the construction of Belgium would occupy the people of that country to such an extent that they would be unable to grow money to buy foodstuffs.

Dealing with the British side, Prof. Reynolds said that Canada would be the first to recover because she has little reconstruction. Some men have no people are resourceful and hardy, and will work.

There will be no employment and low wages in the cities and a time of depression generally. The wealthy few are to be blamed for the many unemployed.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

How Money Makes Money

How the Wealthy Few are Able to Absorb the Wealth

How long will it take our millions—values and multimillionaires to double the value of their holdings and absorb the greater part of the wealth?—a staggering thought. Best in mind to consider is the price of savings. Some men must die if a people would live. "It is expedient," says Holy Writ. That expense of death is involved in every large sum of money.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

How Money Makes Money

How the Wealthy Few are Able to Absorb the Wealth

How long will it take our millions—values and multimillionaires to double the value of their holdings and absorb the greater part of the wealth?—a staggering thought. Best in mind to consider is the price of savings. Some men must die if a people would live. "It is expedient," says Holy Writ. That expense of death is involved in every large sum of money.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

How Money Makes Money

How the Wealthy Few are Able to Absorb the Wealth

How long will it take our millions—values and multimillionaires to double the value of their holdings and absorb the greater part of the wealth?—a staggering thought. Best in mind to consider is the price of savings. Some men must die if a people would live. "It is expedient," says Holy Writ. That expense of death is involved in every large sum of money.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

How Money Makes Money

How the Wealthy Few are Able to Absorb the Wealth

How long will it take our millions—values and multimillionaires to double the value of their holdings and absorb the greater part of the wealth?—a staggering thought. Best in mind to consider is the price of savings. Some men must die if a people would live. "It is expedient," says Holy Writ. That expense of death is involved in every large sum of money.

The question that comes to mind is,

Against Sale of Margarine in Dominion

Hon. Martin Burrell Says Dairy Interests Would Be Injured by Sale

Replying to the civil deputation who asked for the removal of the restrictions on the importation and sale of oleomargarine, Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, said that the question was a bigger one than ordinary. Three successive governments and three successive parliaments had gone on record as against oleomargarine.

There were two sides to the question. Butter was high in price and the importation of margarine might afford relief. But were they aware of the importance of the industry which they wanted to protect? "I do not think its importation would affect the price of butter now," said Hon. Mr. Burrell, "but in the long run it would affect the dairy industry." The dairy industry in this country was valued at $15,000,000 so the question was important as far as the dairy interests were concerned. The production of butter was put on a level with that of margarine, the new production within a few years would probably be twice as high as it is now. Butter was imported at $1,000,000.

Butter had not gone up so much as others commodities, said the minister. He said that formerly Danish butter had retailed showing how the industry had developed.

Better had not gone up so much as others commodities, said the minister. He said that formerly Danish butter went to Britain in a steady stream. Since then, the market has been a greater demand for Canadian butter and the demand last year was equivalent to 1,000,000 bushels, the largest since 1903. The importation of butter maintained that steady supply was obvious, and was the biggest stimulus for promoting the manufacture of butter in the country.

Oleomargarine, said Mr. Burrell, was imported into all other countries, including New Zealand, but in every case the market was too weak to sustain it. Some men must die if a people would live. "It is expedient," says Holy Writ. That expense of death is involved in every large sum of money.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

The question that comes to mind is, when will the field of death be filled with lead to the last inch that will lead people all over Canada instead of away from it and thirst and economy.

Nothing Too Big For British Navy

A Motto That Has Proved the Decisive Factor in the War

When a boy enters the great British naval training school he is taken to view the motto conspicuously carved high in the wall: "There is nothing too big for the British navy." These words become as deeply graven in the hearts of British naval officers as in the wall of their college. The men who serve in the navy become truly devoted to the service. Their brains, their bodies, their spirits, their souls, their entire beings are given to the service. They combine to make it as memorable as Nelson's message at Trafalgar, as, for instance, the words spoken by the ship boy in the Jutland fight who remained at his post when mortally wounded. When an officer asked him why he did not give up and have his terrible wounds dressed he replied simply that he stayed because he thought it might be needed.

It is true of this type who are graving with their boldest weapons ever devised, the murdering submarine and the floating mine. How well they are doing their work, which requires a spirit of daring and fortitude, but the high intelligence, will be reflected in the dwindling statistics of the latest German campaign. Rightly speaking, the British navy may well claim to have justified the ancient boast, "There is nothing the navy cannot do." In this, without the British navy, the world would have been over long ago, and not the bravery of the French army or the genius of its commanders for a few weeks or perhaps a few months the inevitable end. Canadians can not be described as a people except as timid and ignorant, but in every country in which there is a fuller realization of the debt that this country, in common with all the world, owes to the British navy, the way is made a moment.

When the war was a moment to the British navy the capital of every nation now arrayed against Germany—from the Toronto Mail and Empire.

Stock Raising and Mixed Farming

Buyers Have Railway and Hotel Expenses Paid by Government

The Winnipeg Free Press says: Cattle ranching and mixed farming is back again.

"More stock raisers and farmers are coming to the market every week for breeders and feeders, and shipments to the west from stock yards are quite active."

"During the last month 274 head have been bought at the Union Stock Yards, St. Boniface, and sent back to the farms. Last year, 30,000 head were saved to the country in the same way."

"Of the purchases made in January and February, 103 head went to Manitoba, 100 to Saskatchewan and 64 to Alberta."

"The receipts at the Union Yards so far this year are double those for the same period last year."

"Buyers are coming from remote parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan to buy their railway and hotel expenses paid by the federal government, which agrees to meet this expense in order to keep the stock raising business on its feet and encouraging farmers and others to go into the business. The government is also giving a helping hand by granting reduced freight rates for the back haul and the banks are advancing aid in the same end. It is said that for this purpose it is available at from 8 to 10 per cent."

"Without this co-operation the 32,741 head of cattle that have been shipped for market would probably have found their way to the slaughtered houses in the south or east."

"Sellers seem to be at present content chiefly of the cattle market, but considerable prime cattle that the local market is unable to absorb is going to eastern Canada."

Tommy (to Jack on leave)—What about the lingo? Suppose you say "egg" over there, what do you say?

Tommy—But suppose you want two?

Jack—We say "Two oofs" and the silly old hubbies ye threid ye juist git her backin' an' an' an awfu' easy language.—Glasgow Herald.

Her Father—Do you think you can make your daughter happy, sir?

Sister—Why, I have already, haven't I? I've asked her to marry me.

Boston Transcript.

Said He—Why do women, as a rule, talk more than men do?

Said She—Oh, I suppose it's because they have the men to talk about.—Indianapolis Star.

The Test of Victory

That Side Will Win Which Can Endure Longest and Suffer Most

Liberty can never be advanced through the arguments of philosophers, but through the devotion and self-sacrifice of its believers. It is at the cost of the steepest fight that it has come down to us. Again it has proved its inherent value by the sacrifices it has been able to call for. Lives have been paid the toll for every step of its advance. And if in the present struggle, the toll is heavier than ever before, it is because the crisis is greater, because the scale of human sacrifice that has passed is often international. Our race has often bled for English liberty; it is called upon today to bleed for European, a world-wide liberty.

Moreover, its enemy is of like proportions. It would seem as if the Prussian state had been destined to bring about the beginning to the end of the forces of tyranny, for its last encounter. By sheer efficiency, by the superiority not only of her military genius but of her intellectual talents of tyranny, the Prussian Prussia has gathered under her leadership all the scattered and hitherto feeble elements of tyranny which, though scattered, were yet strong that breed the big ideas. Palestine is one example, Greece another; yet a third is Prussia. The first stood for freedom, the second for spiritual liberty, the third for the tyrannical ideal complete in action and in thought.

And in this last encounter it will prove in every other—the side will win which can endure longest and suffer most. In this world everything sooner or later comes to an end. Life is but the price of triumph we fight for has to be paid down until falsehood is outbid and gives up. There never has been any other way to victory. It is life itself, not violence, nor tyranny to men, then it can endure and suffer more. It is precisely those who realize most fully the nature of the struggle that are most likely so much as an end in itself as a process of becoming, the germ as it were of a constant growth kept in motion by the exertion of the will to live on all the planes of life. It is this who, estimating its influence on the centuries to come, least grudge the cost, and are most paying in the effort to bring to fruition the People who dilate on the sanctity of life and the horror of death and suffering take a tone gross and immature, and are not even willing to be convinced; it is not given to every generation to die for the truth.—From the London Times.

The Beginning of Wheat

Oldest Cultivated Plant Has Followed Man to the Wildest Corners of the Earth

The geographical origin of wheat as well as the time when it became a cultivated plant, has never been definitely determined. It is believed, however, that its cultivation is much older than the written history, and that at the dawn of history it was indigenous in Western Asia.

Human tradition, that very ancient memory must older than the Hebrew scriptures show its cultivation already established.

The earliest known variety of wheat was a small-grained variety of wheat as early as the stone age. The Chinese were growing wheat 2700 B.C.

Dr. Candolle believed the Euphrates valley was the principal habitation of wheat in prehistoric times. He says: "The area (in Western Asia) may have extended from Spain to China—climate very similar, but to the east and west of Western Asia wheat had probably never existed as a cultivated plant anterior . . . to all known countries."

Carlton, discussing the present range of wheat, says: "The sub-species of wheat have a range of 100 degrees through which a wheat plant as to elevation and latitude, greater than that of any other cereal, and probably greater than that of any other cultivated plant." It is grown at slighter higher latitude and in some instances at higher elevation. Wheat is now grown successfully in practically all countries—in the tropics of the Philippines, equatorial Africa, Brazil and Costa Rica, and near to the Arctic Circle. In Canada and north America, for four years ago (1911) British East Africa began to supply wheat almost sufficient for its own needs, and the same also did in Uganda and Nigeria.

Skeptical people have succeeded with wheat and other cereals north of Yakutsk in Siberia, Finland and Scandinavia even winter wheat reaches over sixty degrees north. At Fort Vermilion, almost 600 miles north of Winnipeg, a flour mill was in operation in 1911. Queen's wheat thrives near Anchorage, while Roman and Fife mature grain in 100 days at Fairbanks, Alaska, two degrees from the Arctic Circle.

Canada's Big Plan Bill

Col. S. R. Labatt, chairman of the Dominion Pensions Commission, addressed the Canadian Club yesterday. Col. Labatt said that up to February 8, 300 men had received pensions and 1,200 gratuities. He estimated that Canada's annual pension bill would be $20,000,000.

Rasputin the Monk A Sinister Character

Lived a Notorious Life in Russian Court Circles Using Religion as a Cloak

The life story of Rasputin, the notorious Russian monk, who was recently assassinated, is far stranger than any legend. In all the reports of the Russian revolution his name appears frequently.

This humble peasant's sinister influence at the Russian court and his secret and secret ways have done much to the welfare of Russia, and our gallant allies are well rid of such an ungodly character.

Fox several years Rasputin had been a power behind the Czar's throne. He acquired a great hold over the Czar and Czarina, and was a constant in his way or were unable to exile.

The son of a small farmer at Tobolsk, he was given the name of Niyki, but the peasants of his village nicknamed him Gregory Rasputin, which was freely translated as "the madman."

He lived a peasant's life till he was about thirty, when he was seized by a quasi-religious mania, and became a lay monk, wandering about monasteries, seeking salvation. 1903 saw his introduction to high ecclesiastical authorities; he made his first appearance in the Imperial Chapel and his magnetic personality led him to become the fashionable woman of the capital, who flocked to his luxurious lodgings where he held a sort of religious sales. He was a sort of religious presence with a long flowing reddish hair and beard, of mid-life height, ingenuous and erect.

He died in a life of pain which we fight for has to be paid down until falsehood is outbid and gives up.

There never has been any other way to victory. It is life itself, not violence, nor tyranny to men, then it can endure and suffer more.

It is precisely those who realize most fully the nature of the struggle that are most likely so much as an end in itself as a process of becoming, the germ as it were of a constant growth kept in motion by the exertion of the will to live on all the planes of life.

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

In 1914 he was stabbed in the street by a peasant woman, who declared she wished to avenge our Russian soldiers. He was at the hands of an assassin, three bullet wounds being found on his body, his head, chest and side.

At last his conduct became unbearable, and he was exiled to the island of Tobolsk. His last words were to his wife, "I must have made to have and unmade ministries; his waiting room was filled with the most powerful men of the Empire, who, I am sure, are still in the Carpathians to his intercession."

In reality this monk's religion was nothing but a cloak—he was a charlatan, a swindler, a vulgar instrument of intrigue by certain reactionary cliques, made many enemies, and was bitterly attacked in the Duma, and by the press, and was forbidden to criticize. Rasputin was a pro-German and a bitter enemy of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Even Count Witte had to ask his approval of the tsar's policy.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent. In One Week's Time in Many Instances

Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use Home.

LONDON.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be interested to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many of his eyes were failing so they have had their eyes tested by the principle of this wonderful free prescription. "I can't see to read at all. Now I can see to read again. I can't see to walk blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can see to walk again. My eyes do not water any more. At night when pain disturbed me, now they feel fine, all day long. A lady who uses it says: 'The stimulate the eyes, and make them strong again, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, I can read fine print without glasses.' And thousands who wear glasses can now dare to take off their glasses. They will be able to strengthen their eyes so that they will not need glasses ever again. Eye trouble of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Take one tablet of Ben-Oxy tablets. Drop one Ben-Oxy tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and drink it down. With the liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You right from the start and inflammation will go away. You will notice that your eyes are stronger, even a little, take steps to save them. New benefit is to take later. You may feel a slight pain, but never mind, it is good for your eyes in time.

Dr. Lewis, a well known Physician, to whom the above article was submitted, said: "The ingredients in this prescription are well known to enhance eye health and are regularly prescribed by physicians. The manufacturer guarantees that it strengthens eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time." It can be obtained from any good druggist. Not only will you feel better, but you will feel safe to keep on hand a regular supply. "I'll bet he doesn't get the best of her."

Safe Bet

"Cashley's got a split, vigorous woman in the wife of his best friend. Just Cashley's luck. He always gets the best of everything."

"I'll bet he doesn't get the best of her."

CURE COWS' CAKED BAGS

With EGYPTIAN LINIMENT

For Sale by all Dealers

Douglas & Company, Nanape, Ont.

The Backyard's Importance

The Rotarian who said it was more important that citizens should cultivate their yards than to vote, has got it right. The vacant lots should be developed spoke a simple truth. It is the backyards in the aggregate from which the individual supplies must come.—London Free Press.

Rest With Asthma.

Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when it is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the derangement, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless rapidly secured. Fortunately, relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Keltner, Asthma King, has proved its merits through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

Possession is nine points of the law and the attorney's fee is the tenth.

I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT THE BEST Liniment in use. I got my foot badly jammed recently. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT, and it was as well as ever next day.

Yours very truly,

T.G. McMULLEN.

What you think that you are going to learn to love a dog, remember that a little learning of that sort is a particularly dangerous thing.

Minard's Liniment for Sale Everywhere

English Navy to Have 400,000 Men

It has already been announced that the total establishment of the Royal Navy in 1917-18 is to be 400,000 officers and men. A supplementary estimate provides for the addition of 35,000 of all ranks during the current financial year. With the passing of this vote the aggregate of 400,000 will already have been provided for. The original estimate for 1916-17 telegraph.

Canadian Made Lead Pencils

Substantial Orders Have Been Received From New Zealand

One of the war developments in stimulating Canadian trade is seen in the fact that Canadian-made pencils are now being sold in New Zealand. A report received by the Canadian trade commissioners, Beddoe, of Auckland, says that a Canadian firm recently sent out to New Zealand samples of lead pencils made in Canada. Following the stepping of the Austrian supply, Mr. Beddoe says that the samples were found very satisfactory and substantial orders have been sent to Canada.

He also notes that if Canadian firms were not so busy with war work they could export more. New Zealand is much greater proportion of the business formerly enjoyed by Germany. During the past year at least one million dollars' worth of Canadian orders went to Canadian firms could not be filled.

Montreal Man Tells

Wonderful Story

BAD CASE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

George Sullivan, Who Suffered From the Dread Disease for Two Years Gives Credit for His Recovery to Dodd's Kidney Pills

Montreal, Que. (Special)—Completely cured of what doctors declared to be Bright's Disease, George Sullivan, 284 St. Valler St., this city, is spreading the good news that he found his cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I suffered from Bright's Disease for two years," Mr. Sullivan states in an interview. "I was unable to work for weeks at a time. I spent a great deal of time in doctors' offices without receiving any real benefit and received no outdoor treatment at the Montreal General Hospital.

I was feeling very badly discouraged when a friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. After using three boxes I was much better. I kept on till I had used five boxes, and then I was completely cured."

"Naturally I consider Dodd's Kidney Pills a wonderful remedy."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all, however, and are not applicable to kinds from backache to Bright's Disease. The proof of this is their growing popularity in Canada for over a quarter of a century. If you haven't used them ask your neighbor about them.

Hoppeles

There is in the employ of a Brooklyn, N.Y., Irish cook, who has managed to break nearly every variety of article that the household contains. The mistress' patience reached its limit. It was decided to cover that the cook had broken the thermometer that hung in the dining-room.

"Well, well," sighed the lady of the house, "I resigned myself, 'you've managed to break even the thermometer, haven't you?'

Whereupon, in a tone equally resigned, the cook said: "You mustn't be worried, I'll fix it up again."

"Just give it a fair trial and includey get yourself ease by the quickest route. See name below."

Has been Canada's favorite yeast for more than forty years.

Enough for 5¢ to produce 50 large loaves of fine, wholesome nourishing home made bread. Do not experiment, there is nothing just as good.

EWIGLIET CO. LTD.

TORONTO, ONT.

MONTREAL

MADE IN CANADA

© 1916 EWIGLIET CO. LTD.

© 1916 EWIGLIET CO. LTD.</p

PROVINCIAL ELECTION

JUNE 7th, 1917

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your vote and influence is cordially solicited for

C. W. FISHER

The Liberal Candidate in Cochrane District.

New Prices August 1, 1916

The following prices for Ford cars will be effective on and after August 1st, 1916

Chassis	$450.00
Runabout	475.00
Touring Car	495.00
Couplet	695.00
Town Car	780.00
Sedan	890.00
f. o. b. Ford, Ontario

These prices are positively guaranteed against any reduction before August 1st, 1917, but there is no guarantee against an advance in price at any time.

LESLIE FARR,
Dealer and Auctioneer,
Airdrie, Alberta.

Crossfield CASH MEAT MARKET

Fresh and Cured Meats and Fish always on hand

Good Variety of Smoked Meats at the Lowest possible Prices.

We are always open to buy Beef, Cattle or Stockers. If you have anything to sell call and see us. Best prices paid.

Phone 24, Highest Price Paid for Hides and Poultry.

TIMS & CUMING, Prop.

Red Cross Notes.

The Red Cross acknowledge with thanks the following donations and work.

Crossfield Sewing Circle tea $5.40
Oneils " " 6.10

Work: Oneils, 69 trian. bandages, 1 H.W.B. cover

Mrs. Smith, 1 suit pyjamas

Crossfield, 37 T bandages, 12 M.T. bandages

Mrs. Woledge, 6 trian. bandages.

Horricks, 7 T bandages

Jessiman, 5 H.W.B. covers

Bray, 1 pair socks

McRoy, 1 pair socks

Kerbaugh, 6 towels, 1 T bandage

Whitfield, 3 towels, 6 T bandages

Dungan, 11 towels, 1 M.T. bandages

Wilson, 1 suit pyjamas

The Red Cross Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Bray this week, and next week with Mrs. Woledge.

U.F.A. Services next Sunday, will be held at Dog Pond at 11 a.m.

Beaver Dam at 2 p.m.

Sunshine at 4 p.m.

Addressed by Rev. H. M. Horricks.

Dean Howes, of the Alberta University, will address services at the Union Church, Crossfield, at 4 p.m. and at Rodney at 8 p.m.

Notice to the Public.—On and after May 26th the Crossfield Meat Market will be run on a Strictly Cash basis. The price we are compelled to pay for our line of goods makes this step necessary.

W. TIMS.

The Municipal Hospitals Act

How to Incorporate a Hospital District and Provide for Operation of a Hospital

Under the Municipal Hospitals Act passed at the recent Session of the Legislature the Minister of Municipal Affairs is authorized to divide the Province into Hospital Districts. He is also charged with the responsibility of supplying plans, specifications, estimates, advice on sites and materials, and such other assistance as he may be called upon to give. Bringing into existence of a hospital depends upon the initiative of the people. When only one municipality is concerned, it is the duty of the Minister to receive a petition signed by twenty-five electors and agreed to by the municipal council. When more than one council is concerned, the action of all the other councils or councils is necessary, as well as the petition from the electors within the municipality. The preliminary work being done, the Minister will appoint a local board. In the case of one municipality undertaking the work, the board shall consist of three members of the council and three elected outside the municipality. Where there are two municipalities in the proposed district each council shall appoint three representatives, one being a member of the board. The board will consist of six members. When the appointments are made the names are sent to the Minister, who names a convenor and the place and date of the meeting for organization. The board has power—

To appoint such officials as may be necessary and to fix the amount of remuneration;

To determine the site and arrange for purchase of same;

To arrange for the acquiring or erection of a suitable building;

To make arrangements with any existing hospital, if preferred to undertake the construction and maintenance of a separate institution;

To engage medical practitioners and nurses;

To arrange for financing the hospital, the preparation of estimates, etc., the authority to propose that the money be used for other municipal enterprises;

The levy for capital expenditure shall not be higher than two mills on the dollar;

As soon as the plans are approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs, the council shall prepare a by-law for submission to the electors, which must be voted upon at the next election;

For full information as to how to arrange for conducting a Municipal Hospital under this Act, apply to

JOHN PERRIE,
Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs,
Edmonton.

Wanted—Farm Listings, for Sale or Rent, at once.

C. Hultgren.

WANTED.

Wanted.—20 to 30 Little PIGS from 6 to 10 weeks old. State lowest price delivered in Crossfield.
Chronicle Office, Crossfield.

For Sale

For Sale.—Two 2-year-old Stallions Your choice for $250.

Thomas Amery.

Lost—Cow.

Lost.—One Purebred Roan COW. Branded triangle on right ribs.

Reward for information.

YULE & BOWES, Cartairs.

While the Sun Shines

Insure against hail. It is even more important than the provincial advise to do so. In half hour a sudden hailstorm may wipe out the results of a year's work. Protect yourself from loss with a

Hail Insurance Policy

of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

Compared to the profits you expect from your crops, the cost is trifling. It will give you the guarantee of an insurance company that has paid every just claim promptly in all the more than a hundred years of its history.

W. TIMS.

The Benefits from the sale of Insurance in this Company goes to the Crossfield U.F.A., which is your own Association.

Deal with Yourselves and Save Money.

MONEY TO LOAN

—
The Trusts and Guarantee Company Limited,
CALGARY.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH- WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of land available in Manitoba or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties.—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within five miles of his homestead on a portion of at least 50 acres on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties.—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, stony or scrubby land. Live stock may be submitted for cultivation under certain conditions.

W. W. CORY, C.M.G., Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Stray.

On the Premises of J. A. McPhee, Sampsonton, P.O., Sampsonton, 1/2 Sec. 14, Twp. 28, R. 3, west of 5th M. One Red COW, 3 years old, with Cal at 1/2 foot. Branded on right rile JOHN LENNON, Rrdr. Bander.

LOST.

$5.00 REWARD

LOST.—On Tuesday, the 24th April, in the afternoon train from Calgary, on in Crossfield, a CAMEO-BANGLE. Finder please leave at the Chronicle Office, Crossfield.

EASTMAN KODAKS, FILMS, VELOX PAPER and POST CARDS.

Developing Tanks, Trays, etc.
For Sale by MERRICK THOMAS, Druggist

WHEN YOU ARE IN NEED OF HELP SEND YOUR ORDERS TO J. R. ROBERTS EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

108a Ninth Avenue West,
Opp. C.P.R. Depot.

PHONE M5881
CALGARY, ALTA.

WE REPAIR STEAM ENGINES AND BOILERS

AGENTS FOR
Gould Balance Valve and Garden City Self-Feeders.

All Repair work is cash on completion of job.

HENDRICKSON & BLEGEN

LUMBER, LATH, SHINGLES, MOULDINGS, WINDOWS, DOORS

And Everything in Building Material.

Lump COAL always on Hand.

ATLAS LUMBER Co. Ltd. CROSSFIELD.

J. S. JOSE, Local Manager.

For Sale.

For Sale.—Pure Bred White Wyandotte Eggs, 5c. each; also 7 Pure Bred White Wyandotte Cock-crews $1.00 each. G. M. Perry, Crossfield.

For Sale.—A quantity of Lumber that was bought to build a house. Apply Corkill and Gunn, Crossfield.

Wanted.—Building Contracts, or would work by day, for particulars apply C. Hultgren.